

14.0 DAILY LAW JOURNALS

- (A) The "Daily Legal News and Cleveland Recorder," a daily law journal and newspaper of general circulation, is designated as the official publication of this Court. All official and legal notices required by law or ordered by the Court to be published may be published in the daily law journal. All charges for such publications shall be taxed as costs. For the publication of new cases, calendars, motions, dockets and notices the publisher of the daily law journal shall receive ten dollars ($10.00), to be paid in advance by the party filing a complaint, transcript for appeal or a lien, to be taxed in the costs and collected as other costs and as provided in O.R.C. 2701.09.
- (B) The publisher of the daily law journal shall receive the sum of five dollars ($5.00) for each required entry in the daily law journal published in the "abstract," and the Clerk of Courts shall tax as costs the sum of five dollars ($5.00) for each entry made.

Effective 12/01/1994.
